

London Is Illuminated

Rejoicing Over the Favorable Reports of the King's Condition.

Bonfires Blaze From End to End of the United Kingdom.

London, June 30.—The bulletin on the King's condition issued at Buckingham Palace at 10 o'clock this morning says:

"His Majesty has slept well. The dressing of the wound gives much distress, but there are no bad symptoms of any kind."

London, June 30.—3:22 p.m.—Further news will be issued at 7 p.m.

In the meanwhile, it has been ascertained that the King maintains his progress and is again occupying his invalid couch.

London, June 30.—The following bulletin was issued from Buckingham Palace at 7 p.m.:

"The King has had a fairly comfortable day and the discomfort in the wound has been less.

"(Signed) Treves, Laking and Barlow."

London, June 30.—In view of the King's continued improvement no further bulletin will be issued tonight.

London, June 30.—The general feeling of relief as a result of the favorable reports of the condition of the King vented itself tonight by touching off the 3,000 bonfires throughout the United Kingdom, which were originally planned to celebrate coronation night.

The signal fire, lighted in the trees, given at five minutes past nine o'clock. A rocket was sent up from the top of a gigantic wheel in Earls' Court and burst in a cloud of stars 1,000 feet overhead. In response to this signal bonfires rose on every elevation of any consequence from Lizard to the Orkneys. The celebrations were unfortunately damaged by a downfall of rain.

London was not officially illuminated. It had been hoped that the Mansion House, the Bank of England and Marlborough House would join in the celebration, all their illuminating stands being intact, but none of the official decorations were lit up.

The display in London in this line was confined to theatres, the hotels and business houses on the Strand, Fleet street and other thoroughfares. There was quite a celebration at Spirehead today, when the nearest approach to a review of the great fleet there was seen in the trip of seven transports loaded with volunteers and sailors, the crews a number of distinguished persons, who lined the Empire's "first line of defense."

The arrangements for King Edward's dinner to the poor of London to be held July 5 are being rapidly completed.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

The pernicious excitement during the past week outside Buckingham Palace at the hours the bulletins were posted was entirely absent this morning. The sanguine impression created by the doctors' reports on Saturday and Sunday was maintained by the salient phrase in this morning's bulletin, "No bad symptoms of any kind."

At noon the following official statement was given out from the palace:

"There is no cause for alarm in the distress caused by the dressing of the wound. The days twined. The wound, which is a considerable depth, is dressed from the bottom, as it is essential that it should heal from within outward. The dressing causes His Majesty considerable pain, which he has borne with great fortitude. In fact His Majesty's courage and patience call for the greatest admiration. The King was much benefitted by the change to the couch yesterday, on which he stayed for a few hours, and the men have profited of great value in keeping down the temperature of the apartment. The Queen is in constant attendance in the sick room, but the utmost quiet is enforced. The King occasionally sees his children, but the interviews are of short duration. No matters of state of business are allowed to be submitted to the King, who is also debarrased from reading his correspondence. Neither Doctors Laking, Barlow nor Treves have left the King's side since his operation, except for an occasional hour."

This statement was issued with the view of correcting the numerous unfounded stories published with circumstantial detail regarding what is alleged to transpire in the sick room. The cheerfulness of the public is apparently shared in full by the members of the royal family. The Prince of Wales went out riding this morning, and this afternoon the Princess witnessed from the palace windows with evident interest the past of the Guards.

The sick review reigned today with a very strong tide on the satisfactory news regarding the King's condition. Consols rose seven-sixteenths.

SEALING DISPUTE.

Testimony in Russia—United States Dispute Not Ended.

The Hague, June 30.—Contrary to expectations, the taking of testimony of the United States Russian sealing dispute before Dr. Agnew, the British jurist and member of the permanent arbitration court here, as arbitrator, was finished this afternoon, although the sitting of the court was prolonged until 6 o'clock. Several United States experts who testified before the court were not acquainted with the French testimony. This had consequently to be carefully translated, which consumed much time. A short sitting will be held tomorrow afternoon when the court will adjourn until July 4. The findings of the court will not be published immediately. The arbitrator has six months in which to reach a decision.

DOMINION DAY.

Today we celebrate the making of one coherent nation out of the separate provinces of Canada. Sectional we will not say animosity, but separateness, has survived the confederation of Canada to a greater extent than it should have done. But it is rapidly giving way to a thoroughly national sentiment. The cause which is contributing to this most effectively is that all Canadians from the Atlantic to the Pacific are learning to take a pride in being Canadians as well as in being inhabitants of Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, or British Columbia. Great assistance to the satisfactory growth of national sentiment has been given by the important place taken by Canadian initiative in approaching and attempting to solve the difficulties of closer Imperial relations, and the deference with which the loyal, but well defined and independent, opinion of the Dominion of Canada must henceforward be received in Imperial councils. Another valuable cementing influence is the great name in war made by the Canadian troops. They won for our country a reputation for fearlessness and resourcefulness which is a valuable national asset. In addition to these things, Canada has been becoming conscious during the last few years of her enormous national wealth, and more aggressive and energetic in protecting and developing it, and has come to have a clearer realization of the destiny which is before her. Every year as our national progress and importance become more conspicuous, the celebration of the natal day of the Dominion becomes invested with a deeper significance to those who are becoming welded into a national type in which they may well take pride.

THE LEAD INDUSTRY.

It appears that the business men and manufacturers of the East did not understand how the United States tariff had affected the producers of lead bullion in British Columbia, until they had explained to them at the session of the Boards of Trade of the Dominion at Toronto. As soon as they did understand it, a resolution was unanimously passed calling for a greater measure of protection to the lead producers of the Dominion, and the consequent establishment of industries in Canada which are dependent upon pig lead as their raw material. It is a little difficult to see how any association of business men could possibly approve of the continuance of the present state of things. That we should go on producing lead and selling it at any price an American trust chooses to give us for it, and then should buy it back in its various manufactured forms from the same people to whom we have sold it, is about as ridiculous an anomaly as could well be imagined. We hope that now that the business men of the East understand the question, sufficient pressure may be brought to bear upon the government to remedy this intolerable discrimination against Canadian industry. In the meantime it is encouraging to see that the experimental plant erected at Trail for the refining of lead bullion has proved a success, and that the first shipment of refined pig lead has been made to the Eastern market. It is said, and we hope with truth, that the small experimental plant now in operation will be replaced by one of a larger capacity. There would have been no question as to the rapid growth of the lead industry in Canada had action been taken by the Dominion government to stimulate it.

THE CORN DUTY.

The Birmingham Gazette, which supports Mr. Chamberlain, and is not likely to commit itself to anything antagonistic to his ideas, has the following to say about the duty on corn:

"It may be true that Sir Michael Hicks-Beach had nothing in view but the raising of revenue. Our admiration for his skill and foresight is not increased by his ostentatious declaration on the point. It would be far more to his credit if he could say that, in framing a scheme for the raising of revenue he had favored duties which would facilitate free trade within the Empire, than those of the protection of British power."

"We are asked, however, to believe that he blundered upon a plan the most provocative of hostile criticism, that he shaped the plan so as to give the least possible return and the greatest possible annoyance, and that he left others to discover in it the redeeming characteristic of adaptability to a system of free trade within the Empire. When Sir Michael Hicks-Beach retires we may possibly get a statesman as Chancellor of the Exchequer; the post is not dignified by a man whom his s. d. of his office. Surely it would have been far more effective in bringing forward a corn tax to show that while it was necessary as a means of increasing revenue and establishing equity between home and foreign wheat-growers, it was desirable also as a step in the preparation of this country for the policy of closer commercial union with the colonies. No man who is capable of seeing a few years ahead has the slightest doubt that this is one of the greatest questions the country has to deal with. It is full of difficulties, however, and it is complicated enormously by our fiscal system. We have to pay the way for a change by slow and cautious steps; but we shall be graceless fools if we do not endeavor to bind the colonies to the Mother Country by ties of commercial interest which will strengthen as these colonies increase in population and expand in resources and requirements."

"If these are Mr. Chamberlain's ideas expressed with a freedom in which he could not himself indulge, they do him infinite credit, and show that he is a close and discriminative student of imperial problems, a fact of which most people were aware before. He is also a bold man if he proposes at his time for a change in a tilt against the almost invincible conservatism in trade matters of the British Isles. We use the word not in its party sense at all, because the Liberal party is, if anything, more rooted in its attachment to dogmas dignified by the name of principles, after the conditions which gave rise to them have entirely changed, than the Conservative party is. Mr. Chamberlain is an even greater statesman than we have given him credit for being if he can bring about a change in the trend of British trade policy, without sending his party into opposition first, and such a result would have a serious effect upon his career, for if he is full of honors, he is also becoming full of years."

"The great American press raced itself over its feet over the illness of King Edward. Inaccurate prophecy is not news.

"The newspapers have been put to all sorts of devices to use up their special Coronation features, which they have been preparing for months past. The King's illness demoralized every newspaper in North America.

"How long ago is it since the scare took place that American coal was about to dominate the European market? Coal consumers in the Eastern States are now looking to Wales for a supply in spite of the British export duty.

"An agitation is starting in the United States against the excessive use of fireworks on the 4th of July. The Mayor of Chicago has condemned them as barbarous, and most people will admit that they are dangerous, both to life and property.

"At a conference of preachers in Chicago the other day, the gentleman who presided informed those present that he had never told a lie in his life. We would recommend this gentleman to a study of a book which says that when a man deceives himself the truth is not in him.

"The controlling interest of the Steel Trust has been enjoined from converting $200,000,000 of preferred stock into $250,000,000 of 5 per cent. second mortgage bonds. The minority shareholders strongly object to a mortgage of $250,000,000 being placed upon their property, and the courts have so far sustained their objection. J. Pierpont Morgan was to have made $10,000,000 commission on the transaction.

"The Kansas Democratic platform contains the following: "We are opposed to the British system of colonization, by means of which powerful, selfish interests are enabled to employ the resources of the people to enslave inferior races and to enrich themselves. We are in favor of true American expansion, such as under Democratic control has been achieved in the past." The only trouble about this platform is that there is no such British system of colonization. These Kansas Democrats have labeled an objectionable thing as British because they dislike Great Britain.

"Kings who, than wise counselors yet more wise, Because of the calm height wherefrom they scan the orbit of their Empire, can surmise God's destiny for man."

"The above is from the pen of Alfred Austin, poet laureate. Mr. Austin is a contemptible creature. A king is seldom wiser than his advisers. He is never wiser because of his position. He is further, no more able to surmise God's destiny for man than the meanest of his subjects. They should either have discovered another Tennyson, or abolished the office of poet laureate.

SUICIDE.

From Wilmer Outcrop. Word was brought up Saturday by A. Austin that John Rusch has committed suicide at Brisco Friday night. His home is in Essex Centre, Ont., where his father has held the position of postmaster for over 18 years. He is a tall, thin man, 60 years old, and said to be highly respected. Rusch was a robust and good looking man, 23 years of age, and came to Windermere in the spring of 1900.

THE STANDARD.

From Revelstoke Mail. A. M. Wilcox, foreman of the Standard mine, brought to Revelstoke on Saturday last some splendid samples of copper ore, taken from the new crevices which will bring in 100 feet more than No. 2 tunnel. The tunnel has cut the vein to a depth of six feet in solid ore, and had not reached the other wall when Mr. Wilcox left. The mine is looking better than a winter, and a great advertisement of the mineral resources of the Big Bend.

ANTHONY—STEVENS.

From Ashcroft Journal. On Thursday afternoon at three o'clock an extremely pretty wedding was solemnized at the little church in Lytton. The church was decorated most artistically with a profusion of flowers, and the bride and groom were united in marriage Miss Annie Gertrude Stevenson, daughter of Mr. Arthur Stevenson, Supt. of Public Works, and J. H. Anthony, of Lytton, was assisted by the Rev. Mr. Aspinwall. The Rev. Mr. Venerable Aspinwall officiated, assisted by the Lord Bishop of New Westminster, who addressed the young couple at the close of the ceremony and pronounced the benediction.

CARIBOO GOLD.

From Ashcroft Journal. The Journal's correspondent at the 150-mile House says he is informed that the War Department and the Canadian army are taking a lot of gold. They are working the ground which was made available by turning the river, and it is as rich as other parts of the chain which gave such results. The 150-mile House on Tuesday, and he says that nearly all the men who were about there have gone up the Horsefly graph.

AN OLD TIMER.

From Nelson Miner. Nels Demars, the discoverer of placer gold on French Creek in 1863, was until this attack made on him by the Natives a man of 78 years. The way in which he has withstood the shock inflicted on him shows his wonderful vitality, considering the hardships he has gone through, albeit fifty years of prospecting in a British Columbia.

"I don't know a more unhappy marriage than the Jeremy's." You see, each thought the other had money, and neither of them had. "Well, there should be at least one bond of sympathy between them." "What is that?" "That they are companions in misfortune."

THE GERMAN FLEET.

Much Expected of Sailors Who Man It, and Much Given Them in Return.

The German fleet is the object of the Emperor's especial care. "What is its fighting value?" it might well be asked. The morale of the officers and men can be understood only if it is remembered that the Kaiser is the father of the fleet. All visitors to the ships confirm the statement that William II. is regarded by those who wear his uniform with an almost religious devotion. In this country we refer to the Imperial German Navy, but the word Imperial does not convey the right meaning of the German term Kaiserlich, which is the adjective employed. It is really the navy of the German Emperor. All orders, regulations, and promotions are signed by him. His Majesty carefully selects, in particular, all officers for command, and has introduced a system of retirement under which the plotting officers in the peak of life for the navy. He inspects the service, and closely watches its development in every department, studies the training of the crews, and in the ships portraits of his Majesty are hung and prized. Everything impresses visitors with the devotion to the Emperor and country that animates every boy and man, and the care that is taken to foster a national spirit. No one can walk around one of these ships without being struck by the monthly list of national anniversaries hung up where the crew can see it. Much is expected of the men, even to the study of the skeleton model of the ship.

Nanaimo's
Closing By-Law

Case Stated to Be Argued Before the Chief Justice Tomorrow.

List of Cases to Come on at Civil Assizes—Full Court.

Tomorrow before Chief Justice Hunter the question as to the validity of the by-law passed by the City Council of Nanaimo providing for early closing of saloons will be argued, a case having been stated. A number of men were summoned for being in saloons after prohibited hours, and one being convicted it was decided to refer the question to the Supreme court.

FULL COURT.

The appeal of the defendant in Pither & Leiser vs. Manley, was yesterday allowed by the Full court, the action thus being dismissed. The plaintiffs sued for $800, the defence being that the defendant had conveyed a lot in Grand Forks in satisfaction of the account. The plaintiffs replied that the lot conveyed was the one agreed upon, and canceling the agreement sued upon the original cause of action. Mr. Justice Irving gave judgment for the plaintiffs and the defendant appealed with the above result.

Mr. F. Higgins appeared for the plaintiffs and Mr. L. P. Duff, K. C., for the defendant.

The next case was that of the Noble Five vs. The Last Chance. An application was made by the defendants to have the trial postponed for a year to allow of further development. An offer was made by the plaintiffs agreeing to a postponement for a year, but this was refused, and Mr. Justice Walkem therupon dismissed their application. They are now appealing. Messrs. Joseph Martin, K. C., and A. P. Luxton appear for the plaintiff, and Messrs. E. V. Bowdell, K. C., and L. P. Duff, K. C., for the defendant.

IN CHAMBERS.

Reports For Past Year

Annual Meeting of the Subscribers to the Jubilee Hospital Held Yesterday.

Reports of the Directors and Officials For the Term Just Ended.

The annual meeting of the board of directors of the Royal Jubilee hospital was held in the council chamber of the City hall at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. His Worship Mayor Hayward occupied the chair, and the following directors were present: Messrs. T. Shotbolt, Jas. Forman, F. B. Pemberton, Joshua Davies, Alex. Wilson, E. A. Lewis, R. S. Day, H. D. Helmcken, Dr. Hasell and Secretary Elworthy. A number of ladies were also present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted and the directors' report was then read as follows:

The directors of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital have much pleasure in presenting a brief report upon the workings of this institution during the twelfth year of its existence.

Repairs and Improvements.—The lavatories and toilet rooms between the medical and surgical wards have been rebuilt and drained, as also to form part of the new general washroom, the latter being completed in this report. This much-needed improvement is greatly valued by our staff.

The women's Auxiliary have kindly undertaken another much desired improvement, namely, the painting and papering of the recovery rooms between the medical and surgical wards, which were recently completed.

The interior of the hospital, exclusive of the administration building, has been repainted. Two coats of paint were necessary, but owing to a lack of funds we could only give it one coat.

All the old mats have been replaced by new ones of better patterns.

Regarding Proposed Improvements.—We append the report of a special committee of the board, dealing at length with this subject. We earnestly beseech the attention of the charitable public to the needs of the hospital as therein set forth and appeal for that measure of assistance which will enable us to conserve and extend the interests of the institution. In addition to the work set forth in that report, we call your attention to the improvements that should be made. From various causes the shingles in the roofs of the buildings have curled and warped and will not last very much longer. We would very much like to have four or five new roofs for the inmates. The floors in the wards and rooms are well worn, and are getting rough and uneven. They ought to be replaced with polished hardwood floors. Many of the private rooms might well be converted into double rooms, giving a favorable opportunity to any one who wishes to assist the hospital by donating selected furniture and flooring for any particular room.

Lord Strathcona.—Some of the requirements of the hospital were brought to the notice of the Right Honourable Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, by Mr. H. Dallas Helmcken, who, it may be stated, acted without the knowledge of the other directors. His Lordship, however, gave Mr. Helmcken a sum of $5,000. It appears that Mr. Helmcken had mentioned the sum of $4,000 as being required to erect the addition to the hospital which he proposed, but the special committee, which was directed to look into the enlargement of the premises at the same time, made a provision for including a new wing, estimated to cost $10,000. The directors adopted the committee's report, and in thanking His Lordship for his very kind donation, resolved that the proposed wing shall be known as the "Strathcona Wing." There being no further funds available, its erection is held in abeyance. His Lordship's donation meantime being lodged in the Bank of Montreal, in the name of Mr. H. Dallas Helmcken, in trust, for the Strathcona wing.

Royal Visitors.—The hospital received the distinguished honor, on 3rd October, last, of a visit from the King and Queen and Duke of Cornwall and York, while on their memorable tour through the British Empire. Their Royal Highnesses were shown over the hospital, and took much interest in the provision made for the care of the sick and expressed their pleasure in seeing their Royal Highnesses presented their portraits and also a portrait of Her Late Majesty Queen Victoria. Subsequently the directors received a portrait of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and the Duke of Connaught in the act of leaving the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital in 1892, subsequent to declaring the institute opened, together with a photograph of the Parliament buildings illuminated at night during his visit. His Royal Highness expressed his gratification at the receipt of the board's letter of congratulation and thanks.

Training School.—The training school for nurses, under the superintendence of Miss E. A. Lewis, is progressing satisfactorily. The directors are greatly encouraged by the demand for nurses who have graduated at the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital, and refer with pride to the high positions such graduates hold on the North Pacific coast.

Visiting Medical and Surgical Staff.—The directors take this opportunity of thanking the visiting Medical and Surgical Staff, resident medical officer, matron and staff, who, by their untiring good services, have done much to promote the welfare of the patients, particularly in the hospital.

Recognition and Thanks.—The directors cannot allow this opportunity to pass without recording their grateful appreciation and thanks to those ladies of the Women's Auxiliary who have so generously assisted in the maintenence of the institution. The total amount they have donated and expended upon the hospital during the past year amounts to $244,638. The band of the Fifth Regiment, so ably conducted by J. M. Dunn, have never failing source of attraction and during the year 1901 gave the usual annual concert in aid of the hospital. In recording the fact the directors tender their best thanks therefore. The directors are much indebted to and thank the British Columbia Dental Association for free office room for the holding of their meetings. The directors beg to sincerely thank the very numerous donors of flowers, books, money and in fact articles of every description which have been duly acknowledged in the annual report. The board also extend their thanks to the visiting Medical and Surgical Staff, resident medical officer, matron and staff, who, by their untiring good services, have done much to promote the welfare of the patients, particularly in the hospital.
